imaging procedures may reveal distortion of the trachea, calcified cysts, or impingement of the goiter on the esophagus

the two most common conditions after 60 (or younger) is loss of bladder control or low testosterone in males which renders them seminally dry such young people benefit from as much support as possible.